ROSS, United States District Judge:

The court has reviewed the parties' pre-motion letters concerning their proposed motions for summary judgment, and determined that a pre-motion conference is not necessary in this case. The court therefore grants both parties permission to bring the motions. The court directs counsel for the parties to prepare a joint proposed briefing schedule. The joint proposed briefing schedule should be submitted to the court for approval by February 17, 2006.

SO ORDERED.
